Job Details: Associate Product Manager

Who are we?

With millions of transactions each month, Animall is one of the world's fastest growing agritech companies. We continue to re-imagine and re-engineer the dairy ecosystem in India, and each team member will have significant ownership of the key components that go into this mission!

Till now, Animall has primarily focused on building a peer-to-peer cattle trading platform and the journey of Animall has been very encouraging and promising - we have reached more than 5 million dairy farmers within a short span of 2 years. More than 300,000 cattle have been sold through Animall which amounts to 3000 Crore Rs of GTV and is now at a monthly run rate of 320 Crore Rs GTV. Our dairy farmers have rated us 4.6 out of 5 and 60% of our dairy farmers refer Animall to at least one friend on a monthly basis.

Responsibilities

- Take end to end ownership of a 6+ engineering pod
- Translate product strategy into detailed requirements and prototypes.
- Ideate and execute 'first' of the industry defining features and experiments
- Understand problems, preferences, lifestyle of our users, develop meaningful insights through quantitative and qualitative surveys

- If you want to start your own thing, this will be one of the best experiences for you.

Requirements

- Can be the odd one out. A misfit.
- Believe in fundamental thinking. First principles thinker.
- Core product management experience is nice to have, but in either case.
- You're familiar with iterative development principles and practices, including breaking large product goals into small, achievable slices for early and frequent delivery.
- A strong execution mentality.
